More Pieces Of Puzzle Found

Plane Crashes Still Baffle Investigators

WASHINGTON (AP) — An airliner plunged into the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 16. Another crashed in North Carolina Jan. 6. Together they make one of the most intricate mysteries investigators have ever been asked to solve.

More pieces of this human jigsaw puzzle keep coming in all the time, but where the pieces fit and the kind of picture they make is still as baffling as ever. Here are some of the questions that haven't been answered:

1. Were the two crashes in which a total of 76 persons died caused by bombs? Even this much has not been proved. The first plane is at the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico. Of the second, the latest word is that if an explosive made it disintegrate in air, it was an uncommon kind, not like dynamite or nitroglycerine which leave telltale traces.

2. If the Gulf crash was caused by a bomb, was it planted by Robert Vernon Spears, a naturalist and an ex-convict? He was listed as a passenger on the doomed plane, but the FBI found him alive Wednesday in Phoenix, Ari.

3. Who took Spears' place as a passenger on the Gulf plane? Was it William A. (Al) Taylor, Spears' old pal? Did Spears hypnotize him into taking the plane in his place? Spears denies it. But he has long studied hypnotism, and his wife, Frances, says she is sure someone could be so hypnotized. There is no evidence Taylor was on the plane, but he hasn't been seen since the crash.

4. Can the North Carolina crash be traced to a suicide bomb? Julian A. Frank, 32, a heavily insured Westport, Conn., lawyer, has been an object of suspicion. An unproved theory is that Frank committed suicide by exploding a bomb on the plane, taking 33 others to death with him.

5. If the worst is true, was there some clandestine link between these two tragedies? There is some evidence that Spears and Frank had met, but it is not conclusive.

Bits and pieces fell into the jigsaw.

Bonsall to Report On Castro Campaign

Crisis Near In U.S., Cuban Relations

HAVANA (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal flies home today to report on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's mounting anti-American campaign.

The envoy prepared to head for Washington with some observers feeling that the fiery Prime Minister wants to wreck traditional Cuban-U.S. friendship and eventually oust the United States from its key Guantanamo naval base here.

Bonsal did not spell out what he will report to the State Department, but associates said he has been convinced in the past few days that Castro himself is behind the anti-American drive and that only Castro can stop it.

The situation has reached such a stage that some Americans and Cubans have even been asking about a possible diplomatic break.

Such a suggestion—which would have been deemed fantastic a few weeks ago—has been encouraged by the running propaganda barrage by Castro-supported organs against Bonsal, President Eisenhower, and the United States in general.

The Cuban government's picture of the widening rift is quite different from the one Bonsal is expected to draw for the State Department.

Castro and his aides claim the United States is responsible for the breach. They insist Washington encourages dictators and traitors and permits air raids on Cuban sugar fields. They also have accused Washington of threatening economic reprisals for Cuban government seizure of American investments.

Observers say Castro's campaign is aimed at breaking up ties between Havana and Washington in order to fit Cuba into a new international scheme. They say the plan is not Communist-directed but that it follows closely the pattern of Communist countries.

These observers say Castro wants to gain possession of nearly a billion dollars worth of American agricultural and industrial investments in Cuba, in line with the nationalization of Cuban economy.

Eventually, they say, he hopes to oust the Americans from the 45-square-mile tract that comprises the U.S. Guantanamo base.

A Castro bid for the 45-square-mile Guantanamo base would be hard to achieve. The United States has a firm international agreement for leasing the base, made perpetual by a treaty signed in Washington in 1934.

This provides that control over the base may be changed only by U.S. abandonment of the area or by agreement between the United States and Cuba.

As yet Castro himself has shown no official intention of pushing the United States out of Guantanamo, although there have been rumblings of a campaign against a "violation of Cuban sovereignty" by the presence of a foreign base on this island.

Two Ponds Available For Skaters Here

At least two ponds are available to ice skaters, with freezing temperatures assuring continued good skating weather.

The city's Memorial Park skating pond is being well-patronized, although the surface is a little rough. It is open until 10 nightly. It is lighted and a warming shelter is provided.

The Campf brothers have opened their pond at the corner of the Pidgeon and Depot Road to area skaters. It is lighted at night but there is no warming shelter.

Strike Snags Shipbuilding On East Coast

3 Nuclear Vessels Among $1 Billion In Projects Halted

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—Work on a billion dollars worth of ship construction—including three nuclear-powered vessels—halted today as a strike by Bethlehem Steel Co. shipbuilders spread along the East Coast.

More than 17,000 workers at nine Bethlehem plants were expected to be affected by the walkout, which began Friday at Hoboken, N.J., and jumped to West Milton, N.Y., and Quincy today. Some 12,250 employees already were involved in the dispute.

A spokesman for Local 5, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilders, said the full impact of the strike might not be felt until Monday because only skeleton forces work weekends in some areas.

Will Affect Other Plants

He said other Bethlehem plants expected to be affected are at East Boston, Mass., Sparrows Point, Key Highway, and Baltimore, Md., and Brooklyn and Staten Island, N.Y.

The strike halted construction in Quincy on the 250-million-dollar cruiser Long Beach, the destroyer Bainbridge, and the frigate Luce. Each is nuclear-powered. Work also ceased on the cruiser Springfield, being converted into a missile carrier, and on five tankers. Some 11,000 workers were affected in Quincy.

At Hoboken, more than 1,000 men walked out of the Bethlehem yard. In West Milton, N.Y., 250 workers struck, halting production of the prototype hull for the destroyer Bainbridge, being built at Quincy.

The union's contract with Bethlehem expired July 31. A union spokesman said the basic grievances are seniority and call-in pay. Wage increases had not been discussed, he said.

John F. McGonnigal, executive secretary of Local 5, said there are three classes of hourly rated

Commander Of Algiers Is Ousted

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle had a face-to-face meeting today with paratroop Gen. Jacques Massu, the man he fired Friday night as commander of the Algiers area. Massu's backers in Algiers reacted with a call for a general strike.

As De Gaulle and the hero of European settlers in Algeria talked, French combat troops and police armed with tommy guns patrolled the streets of Algiers on the alert for serious trouble. Algiers merchants hurriedly shuttered their shop fronts. They said the strike order was issued by armed territorial guards, the militia of Algiers citizens.

Presumably De Gaulle and Massu discussed the bereted general's next assignment, which is expected to send him far from rebellious Algeria.

The hawk-nosed Massu, sporting his combat beret, left De Gaulle's office after a 45-minute session. He declined to make a statement. Massu was dismissed after a newspaper interview — which he later denied — in which he was quoted as criticizing the leadership of De Gaulle and the President's Algerian policies.

Massu was recalled to Paris Tuesday by the French President and allowed to cool his heels.

He arrived at Elysee Palace without any prior announcement. He was immediately taken into De Gaulle's office.

European settlers fear that the De Gaulle policy might result in loss of French control of Algeria.

State To Aim At Miss Tregoff In Weekend Recess

Finch Murder Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecution in the Finch murder trial will try to show next week that Carole Tregoff gave authorities conflicting accounts of what she did the night Barbara Jean Finch was shot to death.

To do this, the state will attempt to get the transcript of Dr. R. Bernard Finch's preliminary hearing admitted in evidence. Carole, the doctor's mistress, was a witness at the hearing.

Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, are accused of murder in the slaying of the doctor's 36-year-old wife last July 18 outside the luxurious Finch home in suburban West Covina.

Their trial is in recess for the weekend. One of the points the state wants to bring out involves a bag which a prosecutor has called a "do-it-yourself murder kit." The prosecution says Finch had the bag with him when he and Carole drove to the Finch home the night of the killing. It contained, among other things, some rope, a knife and bullets.

One of Friday's witnesses, police Capt. William Ryan of West Covina, said he had talked with Miss Tregoff the day after Mrs. Finch was killed.

"I asked her if she had carried anything up the hill (to the Finch home) in the way of a bag or satchel," Ryan said, "and she said 'No.'"

At the doctor's preliminary hearing, Carole testified she had brought up the bag when the doctor asked her to get a flashlight.

The defense is opposing admission of the hearing transcript. It contends Miss Tregoff was not advised of possible self-incrimination before she testified. She was dramatically arrested after she had stepped from the witness stand at the hearing.

Runaway to Accompany Brother

Lawyer Says Heiress Will Return To U.S.

PARIS (AP) — The lawyer for the Benedict family of New York said today 19-year-old runaway heiress Gable Benedict will return tonight to the United States.

Lawyer Robert Hoffman, interviewed as he emerged from a Juvenile Court hearing, said "she's going back tonight with Douglas."

Douglas is her brother.

He then ended the interview with newsmen and drove away from the Palace of Justice where the young heiress was called in by Judge Roland Levy.

The runaway girl and her Romanian-born boy friend, Andre Porumbescu, 35, appeared before Judge Levy in a private hearing room packed with lawyers for Miss Benedict and her wealthy New York family.

The girl was smuggled into the room through one of the many passageways beneath the ornate Palace of Justice. Porumbescu walked through the main entrance and told reporters he thought he and Miss Benedict were being kidnapped when they were picked up by police Friday night.

"We were on our way to a restaurant where we had been invited by Douglas," said Porumbescu. "We suddenly saw that we were being followed."

"We were a little afraid and thought of a possible kidnapping, especially since Gable's grandmother had written that she would get Gable back to New York by any means."

"We were somewhat reassured to find out it was the police."

One of the Benedict family lawyers at the hearing told reporters: "Gable would have had to return to New York anyway since an order was filed there ordering her to return. However, we would have had to ask for the application of the order in France and this would have taken some time. The present procedure is faster."

Although no legal undertakings have been made public, the heart of the hearing before Judge Levy is an appeal to place Miss Benedict under the protection of French justice as a minor, since she is under 21. If this were done, the judge would be empowered to order her to follow such procedures as he deemed best for her welfare.

No Word Heard From Victims of African Disaster

Rescuers See Little Chance of Reaching Trapped Men Soon

COALBROOK, South Africa (AP)—Air is now getting through to 406 miners trapped deep in the Clydesdale North Colliery here, rescuers said today. But water seeping into the diggings presented a new hazard.

There still was no communication with the entombed men. A pipe line along which "pipe talk" could be passed was broken in the rock fall that entombed the men behind a mile-thick rubble barrier.

The fact that air was getting through means that, if there are still survivors, they are in less danger from gas.

Chest-Deep In Water

Rescue teams told newsmen of walking chest-deep in water that may be filling the lower workings. Maps have been sent down to help rescue workers now trying to work a way around the obstruction, through long disused passageways. Some inched their way along the main haulage shaft at a rate of two feet an hour.

A massive diamond drilling machine of 13-inch bore—the fastest in South Africa—was on the way to Coalbrook. The machine was expected to reach the pithead late tonight.

It is to be used to sink a hole to improve ventilation and establish communication with the area where the men were trapped by a rockfall Thursday, 6,000 feet underground.

Some Might Survive

Veteran miners said that if the trapped men had not been killed in the two rock falls that sealed them underground Thursday there was a glimmer of hope some might survive.

They expressed the belief the men would not perish from thirst or hunger. Water seeps continuously through the rock walls, and 45 horses still trapped with the men could provide food.

One miner estimated that the men could stay alive for three months.

Thirty pit ponies were brought to the surface this morning. Rescue workers said if the ponies could live in the area where the miners were trapped, so could the men if they were not smothered to death.

The horses were in an area of the mine where deadly methane gas was feared. It was not known, however, how far the trapped men were from the wrecked portion of the mine where the ponies were found.

There was little chance of reaching the men soon, however. Gas pockets, rising water levels,

Pottery To Start Partial Operations

EAST PALESTINE—Clay shop operations are expected to be resumed on a limited basis at Plant One of the W. S. George Pottery here.

The announcement was made by Paul J. Steffens, president, who was elected president of the firm at the directors' meeting Friday at Washington, Pa.

Stockholders elected four new directors in a reorganization move Wednesday, aimed at securing new capital for factory operations.

Other officers named yesterday include: Vice president, Anthony Copozzi of Cannonsburg, Pa., and secretary-treasurer (re-elected), Lester R. Ward of East Palestine. G. A. Mahwinney, one of the new directors, is purchasing agent for the Jessup Steel Co.

The pottery, which at one time employed 250 has been idle most of the past year.

These hands might have painted the world's greatest masterpiece. These hands might have played faultlessly the most difficult concerto. These hands might have mixed a compound that would destroy disease. These hands might have been raised in blessing over a trusting mankind.

Instead they are chained. Somewhere, somehow, they failed. Perhaps they reached over a counter and stealthily snatched a jewel. Perhaps they searched a safe and took what other hands had worked for. Perhaps they held the gun that wiped out a life. Somewhere they went wrong. Somewhere they failed.

Hands do not act by themselves. Personalities control them—personalities swayed by impulses and convictions, good and bad. The Church, your Church, is waiting to guide hands, minds, hearts and lives. Here good impulses, right convictions are born and nurtured. Here, in God's House, hands learn to move aright to find life's work, unchained and triumphant.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Acid Test In the New Budget

If President Eisenhower's budget for the fiscal year 1961 is to be viewed realistically, it must be viewed from the standpoint of politics in this presidential election year of 1960.

From that vantage point, it is interesting to note that the President has held up the tantalizing bait of a possible tax cut if his proposals are adopted. But the possibility is a long-range one — it would accrue to the benefit of the administration and the Congress that will take office next year.

THIS MANEUVER — if that is the proper term — may have been designed to counteract the trouble the President can expect his budget to run into when it meets headlong the people in the present Congress who hope to be in the driver's seat next year. They are on the spot, trying to decide whether to sacrifice this voting year's political expediency for the sake of the bigger goal of next year's political prize.

To give them a little help in deciding, the President has so arranged his spending allotments to satisfy the desire to give the people something tangible just before a big election.

He has provided for increased outlays in such appealing fields as labor, welfare, veterans activities, agriculture and space developments. These can be expected to carry a lot of weight.

But budgets do not come wrapped in pretty paper and tied with fancy bows, even in an election year. So against those attractions, the President has had to include some unattractive suggestions — another increase in gasoline taxes for the highway program and another increase in postal rates to help reduce the huge operating deficit of the Post Office Department.

AND HE HAS taken care to point out that the tax-cut bait will dangle before Congress only as long as it agrees to those revenue increases, especially the postal rate hike. If the increases are not provided, the revenue will have to come from the surplus that would make the tax cut possible.

Congress always juggles the President's budget, as a matter of pride if nothing else. It will be interesting to see whether this year's juggling aims for the long-range public benefit of a tax reduction or for the short-range political benefit of no revenue increases this year.

The President's proposals offer a test to separate the statesmen from the opportunists among Capitol Hill's politicians.

Good Shooting In Any Language

The accuracy reported for this country's Atlas missile and for the Soviet Union's longer-range missile is vastly greater than that of a skilled marksman firing at sight targets at a distance of 100 yards.

When the United States and Russia can drop a missile in less than two miles of a target at a range of thousands of miles—7,760 for the missile fired by Russia in the Pacific — they have split-hair control.

More than ever now it will be necessary to face up to the implication of the long-range missile with a nuclear warhead. Its development has done to nations what the invention of the revolver did to people.

The revolver made all men equal. Tireless dramatization of the revolver era in our own West had made it plain that every man with a gun and the will to use it was the shooting equal of every other man. That is what missiles with nuclear warheads will do for all the countries of the world.

Every nation with a missile — just one missile — will be the shooting equal of every other nation, as far as the damage one nuclear missile can do is concerned.

THE DIFFERENCE will be the area of one country compared with that of another. Eventually, there will be no substantial difference in either range or caliber of missiles. Uruguay will be able to do as much damage to Moscow as the Soviet Union can do to Montevideo. Lichenstein will have as much right to sit in a disarmament conference as the United States, because it can destroy New York as handily as the United States can destroy Vaduz.

Nuclear explosions are within the financial reach of relatively poor nations, and once the expensive groundwork has been laid by the major powers, perfect missiles will be within reach, too.

The United States, trying to catch up to Russia, will have company. Great Britain and France are in the contest now. Red China may be in it soon and most certainly Nationalist China then will be in it, too.

The ingenious Japanese will not be left behind, and missile designers drool at the thought of what the methodical Germans can do. All of today's missile knowledge traces from the Germans' success with missiles in the bombardment of Britain in the final stages of World War II.

It is equally certain that Australia, India, Egypt, Brazil, Argentina and eventually all other nations will have missiles for any eventuality. This is the real problem of disarmament. It is not the obsolescent expensive weapons of today that threaten to crush the people who must bear them but the cheap weapons of the future that are causing nightmares.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in human history, there will be no pushovers — no helpless countries — no combinations of powers capable of dictating terms. Missiles that can be fired at unseen targets thousands of miles away with pinpoint accuracy have made all existing concepts of security meaningless.

When little nations can do as much damage as big ones, no one will walk or sleep in security. Either that, or everyone will walk and sleep in security, because no one will dare to start what could not be finished short of worldwide destruction.

Having become strong enough to exterminate itself, mankind may give up extermination as an instrument of national policy.

Once Over

The National Motor Boat Show is a mecca of seagoing rock 'n' roll set. It is jammed with people who spend winters trying to get a preview of summer. Exhibits are so mobbed by probable buyers, possible buyers, long-chance prospects and window shoppers that a yacht gets a real test if it holds together throughout the week. A boat show fanatic is an all-gone type.

The blood of the sea gull, Moby Dick, Donald Duck and Joseph Conrad flows through his veins. Masfield is his only poet. He puts any good marina or yacht club ahead of the Taj Mahal and thinks the world's greatest inventions are the marine engine, the seagoing windshield wiper, deck varnish and canned cooking fuels.

The auto show addict is a sissy by comparison. He never wants to take a car apart before buying. A boat show man battles from exhibit to exhibit and undergoes combat exercises from boat to boat, motor to motor and bunk to bunk. (He has all the specifications in literature under his arm but never trusts the written word.) Visitor who seeks only a row boat and will not be in the market for another three years will examine a $25,000 yacht rib by rib and nail by nail.

The guy who won't be able to finish the first three payments on his canoe this year can be found rapping on the hull of a $60,000 luxury houseboat and asking, "But will it stand up in real deep seagoing?"

Many a fellow who is primarily interested in a can of boat paint spends the day checking race sloops and asking the builder for his business card.

Boating is America's fastest growing business. It's become a top enterprise in the main streets of many towns, including some far inland.

Not too long ago only the rich belonged to the yachting class. Today every yacht club in the country has a waiting list dominated by Tom, Dick, Harry and Popeye the Sailor. The 1960 show brought out a new type, the customer who came in after too many cocktails, got aboard a twin screw cruiser and cried, "Shove off! This river is too congested."

Here's Interesting Political Cutouts Game for Grownups

Election Year Speculation Can Be Fun

One qualification which the voters will have to watch out for when they pick the next U.S. president is how he will look and stack up with other world leaders in summit, NATO, Pan-American, United Nations, golf course, locker room, bridge table or other international conferences.

This isn't the only or even an important qualification. The most important one is how he'll run things here at home.

Still the Big Four, Big Three, Big 15, Big 21 and Big 82 conferences are becoming more frequent all the time. Even big Two exchange visits come almost every week, someplace. And it's important for "our boy" to look good.

THE BEST WAY to solve this problem is to make a paper-doll cutout game of it. Take any group picture of President Eisenhower surrounded by, say, Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain, President de Gaulle of France and Chancellor Adenauer of Germany.

You can't use a photo of the 1955 summit conference very well because, while Eisenhower and Khrushchev were both there, Marshall Bulganin as top dog for Russia, Anthony Eden for Britain and — who was the French Premier at the time? — oh, yes, Edgar Faure.

Anyway, with a photo of the Western Big Four as a starter, blank out the face of Eisenhower. Then take similar-size cutouts of the American presidential possibilities: Stevenson, Humphrey, Kennedy, Johnson and Symington. The first and the last two aren't running yet (Oh, yeah?) but never mind. This is just a game.

So if you want to, line up the scrubs: the second team of "favorite sons" like Governor Meyner of New Jersey, Williams of Michigan, DiSalle of Ohio and Senator

Macmillan

Guess who?

De Gaulle

Adenauer

Smathers of Florida, your husband, if any, or your rich uncle. For the Republicans, the "Lone Ranger," Vice President Nixon. That's all there is. But since this is a game and it ought to be more even, try out Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and—who else is there, beside Harold Stassen? Well, why not Barry Goldwater? Or Charlie Halleck? Or Ezra Benson? Or Arthur Flemming?

LAY EACH of these pictures in turn over the blank space in the Big Four picture and see who fits best. You wouldn't want to get personal about this, or cast aspersions on anyone's brains or beauty. But—

Kennedy looks a little boyish—and couldn't you bet your last 48-cent dollar that the others in this picture would be wishing they were as young as he is?

The same goes for Humphrey. Johnson doesn't photograph as good as he looks and some of his pictures make him appear sourpuss. Rockefeller, with all that jack, can sit above the salt at any table he wants to, and feel right at home.

Lodge, Symington, Williams and Sinathers are all seven feet tall,

Kennedy

Stevenson

Humphrey

Johnson

Symington

Nixon

Rockefeller

Stassen

Halleck

Lodge

or near that, and pretty good-looking' guys besides, so they could look down on other world statesmen. Brown and DiSalle have other qualities.

Adlai Stevenson is just as bald as Khrushchev, who wears medals for other things besides his beauty. And that gets back to these important Big Two confabs.

Nixon, Humphrey, Stevenson and others have been to Moscow for tete-a-tetes with Nikita.

NIXON'S televised exchanges with Khrushchev at the American Exposition last September showed that he could hold his own in a verbal wrestling match with the Russian, no holds barred. Humphrey's and Stevenson's seances were private.

Humphrey's conference lasted eight hours, which was a record for something. But his and Stevenson's exercises were more in the nature of kicking the crystal ball around.

So all you have to go on are looks, which as every woman knows and will tell you, are important, after all.

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

You believe what you want to about buddy-buddy agreements with Japan and Germany, and I'll continue to believe they'll try to knock us off if they get a chance. Matter of fact, I feel that way about all our "good neighbors."

An enterprising opportunist is making a luggage trailer to fit small cars, having foreseen what happens when an owner wants to go on a vacation and needs extra space.

Any day now, I suppose, we'll be having a best-selling book by those two Korean buddies who stuck their heads in the wrong tent and got their hair shaved off by some American boys who remembered what their mothers told them about loose women. "We Worked the Wrong Side of the Street."

More often than not, I feel that wisecracks about people who work at politics are in the same category with wisecracks about a fellow changing a tire on a hot day while the wisecrackers sit in the shade.

For the first time in three years I am undergoing a surge of interest in jobs around the house but feel certain it will have burned itself out in time for me to get rested up before the spring plowing.

This is the time of the year when it doesn't pay to wonder where the people are you haven't seen for a long time. They're in Florida and will show up one of these days brown as burnt toast and full of bubbly Florida enthusiasm.

This will be lost sight of when oratory begins to bumble and rumble this year, but many of us who have seen presidential campaigns come and go think it's more important what people think they are voting for than whom they vote for.

On the supposition that actors give themselves the best of it when their age is mentioned, it is shocking to learn that glamor boys and girls of what you think of as your generation are pushing physical decrepitude, though not as hard as you, thanks to makeup artists.

It is not good for my Yankee Doodle morale to feel this way, but those geeks in Washington who talk about billions as if they were nothing at all make me think of kids who have found a double sawbuck on the sidewalk and are blowing the roll in a candy store.

When D. D. Eisenhower says he is the reigning expert on military questions, I interpret his remark to mean he knows how militarists always demand more, not that he knows it all about the hardware they specify in their demands.

If a fellow were on his toes, this is the time of the year he would take dull lawnmowers to be sharpened, instead of waiting until the scent of lilacs was in the air.

Man and boy, I have thought about education more and heard education discussed more than any other topic, yet I know only one thing about education: Nobody knows what it is. Worse yet, most people think everything that takes place in a school house is, perforce, education, when the fact is that much of it is not even animal training.

Television's hand-in-the-cookie-jar attempts to make viewers forgive it for its trespasses roll me on the living room floor every time another ourst of hearty man-to-man confidence-building dips out of the gawk — box. Shuck, fellers, I always knew that was shaving cream on the double-recipe cake in the first place.

The best time to remember that competition inside political parties is deadlier and bloodier than competition between parties is before the sparring is over and the once deadly enemies have put up a solid front for the campaign.

Every time I point with pride to the fact I have not succumbed to whatever is going around, I develop all the symptoms, though they never last. I presume this is a full-blown case of psychosomatics and that I should see a head-shrinker without delay.

Hulan E. Jack, Harlem leader and president of the Borough of Manhattan, entangled himself in a mess of lies and double talk and thus brought about his indictment for violation of the law. He has been indicted by a New York grand jury and his future is squarely in the uneasy lap of Gov. Rockefeller and of the trial court.

This suggests two observations: First, that the Democratic machine for which Tammany is the common name, has about run its allotted span of rule and loose morals and easy ways have, as always, appeared after several years of control over the government of the city. Second, that profuse expenditures of federal money are just as much a field for corruption as was the old flow of private money from contractors, seekers of franchises and bootleggers.

The essential pattern is the same.

Easier Money Ahead?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Tighter or easier money ahead? Better chance of financing a new home or other purchase or of borrowing for your business deals?

President Eisenhower in his annual economic report to Congress says more money should be available for investment this year.

But many bankers are saying that the demand for loans is growing and money is so tight that an increase in their interest charges is overdue. They want the Federal Reserve System to take the first step by hiking its discount rate, or what it charges them when they borrow from it.

The federal reserve is holding its own counsel about that.

The U.S. Treasury has some big refinancing to pull off next month and so will be dealing with lenders again. It isn't anxious to see interest rates rise.

But, like the President, the Treasury sees some easing ahead in the money market. This is because last year it had to raise eight billion dollars of new money. To do so it competed actively with everyone else who wanted to borrow. This helped send interest rates higher.

This year the Treasury hopes to reverse that. Not only will it be seeking no new money, except for short periods, but even hopes to be returning some two billion dollars to the money market, cutting the federal debt by that much.

If President Eisenhower's hopes of a budget surplus in the next fiscal year are fulfilled, the Treasury will be cutting the debt further and returning more money to the market.

Bankers and financiers of mortgages say that will be all to the good. But the immediate prospect, they still contend, is for an increasing credit pinch as business activity steps up, and perhaps higher interest rates—certainly no declining ones.

The President's hopes for more available investment money seem based in great part on his belief that incomes will soar this year, making more savings possible.

He also wants Congress to help by doing the three things he stresses again in his economic message: 1. Keep spending down so there will be a budget surplus. 2. Hold tax rates where they are so that the surplus can be used for cutting the debt. 3. Take the shackles off the Treasury so it can borrow in whatever market seems best and not, as now, be forced to hit only the short-term market where great demand has sent borrowing costs soaring.

SIDE GLANCES

Looking Backward

5 YEARS AGO — The Colts and Fillies Club met recently at the home of Hazel Blickinstaff.

10 YEARS AGO — The Chancel Choir of the Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Stiver, will sing at the installation of Bible School officers Sunday.

25 YEARS AGO — Ruth Circle of the First Friends Church will meet with Miss Bessie Park Friday.

The News invites letters from its readers on all important current topics, but the letters should be brief, not to exceed 300 words and they must bear the signature and address of the writer to insure publication. Unsigned letters can not be published.

Again, in 1914, New York turned to reform with John Purroy Mitchell. He lasted four years and Tammany with Brooklynite John Hyland was elected in 1918.

Things went on until Fiorello La Guardia was elected in 1933. He served 12 years. The present span of years of Democratic control in New York City, which began with the election of William O'Dwyer, has reached 14 years.

It will have reached 16 years when the term of Mayor Robert Wagner expires. This will be the longest stretch enjoyed by the Democratic machine of which Manhattan's Tammany is now a junior partner—in 70 years.

But the recurrent symptoms are developing fast. Mayor Wagner is stirring uneasily and somewhat wistfully, looking toward the possibility of getting out by way of a vice presidential nomination. That is likely to be a vain hope.

IN THE LAST YEAR several bad embarrassments have been revealed. The major ones have been concerned with housing under the Title I federal legislation.

Now the Tammany president of the Borough of Manhattan, Hulan Jack, has been indicted for allegedly accepting a gratuity from a man, Sidney J. Ungar, who has been interested in slum clearance projects.

It seems, according to the district attorney, that Jack, who is a big shot in Harlem politics, had his apartment remodeled at the expense of Ungar.

After the newspapers gave the transaction some airing, Jack, Ungar, and the man who did the work formulated a plan to have it seem that Mrs. Jack paid for the work. This exploded and then the story was that there was a loan from Ungar. Then came the indictment.

Responsibility for action concerning the removal of Jack from his elective office rests with Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. This is a tough problem for the governor, since there has already been a hue and cry in Harlem to the effect that Jack is being persecuted because of his color.

The contention is that there are lots of miscreants of another color and they, too, should be investigated. That may lead to more trouble for the Wagner regime.

So the cycle runs as always. The graft differs in kind but morally there is identity. Big money freely dispensed in contracts, or prostitution, or bootleg liquor, or the numbers racket, or housing still attracts rapacious people.

New York gets bigger and richer but Tammany never learns from the past.

Salem Spurs In Fourth To Defeat Niles Quintet 63-56

Quakers Behind Most Of Contest

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Down by six points going into the final eight minutes of play, the Salem Quakers came to life in the fourth quarter to defeat a stubborn Niles quintet 63-56 Friday night on the Red Dragons' home court.

Spirited by the uncanny jump shooting of 6-2 forward Ray Baltz, Niles maintained the lead throughout most of the first three periods. Baltz pumped in 26 points on 13 field goals, most of them coming on long one-handed jump shots.

Salem was paced in the scoring column once again by guard Dave Hunter who hooped 20 points. The 5-11 co-captain for the Quakers laid in nine of his markers in the big fourth quarter when Salem shot from behind.

Everything went wrong for the underdog Niles cagers in the fourth quarter after they had played their hearts out for three periods.

THE RED DRAGONS took a 47-41 lead into the fatal fourth. After hitting a torrid 50 per cent of their shots in the first three quarters, Niles missed their first eight field goal attempts in the final quarter. They didn't score a point in the period until Bill Leonard registered a foul shot with 2:42 remaining in the game.

The never-say-die Quakers wasted little time in the fourth quarter closing the gap. After just 16 seconds Salem had pulled to within two points, 47-45, on a goal by Hunter and fouls by Hunter and Don Davidson.

Jim Solmen tied the score at 47-47 at the 5:35 mark. He was fouled in the act of shooting by Jim Allen, 6-0 center, who was forced to leave the game with five personals. He accounted for five points before going to the showers.

SOLMEN MISFIRED on his one-and-one foul attempt but "Old Reliable," Dan Krichbaum, came through with a long one-hander which gave Salem the lead, 49-47, for the first time since early in the opening period.

Then the turning point in the game came when the calm and collected Krichbaum dropped in four consecutive foul attempts to put the Quakers on top 53-47 with 4:33 remaining in the contest.

Niles received another blow when Dick Jones, 5-11 guard, became the second player to leave the game via the foul route. Jones left the contest at the 3:56 mark with the Quakers on top 53-47. The little guard had nine points.

Hunter, after missing two layups, made the score 55-47 on a feed by Krichbaum, who had stolen the ball from a Niles player.

KRICHBAUM FOULED out of the game with 2:02 remaining and the Quakers on top 57-48, but the 5-10 senior co-captain had provided the spark which brought his team victory. He had 12 points and another outstanding floor game to his credit.

Hunter continued to give the Red Dragons fits after Krichbaum left the game as he drove in for another pair of baskets.

Eskay, Harshman Pace Salem Jayvees to 52-37 Victory

Bob Eskay and Fred Harshman, the two front-runners to replace the departing Dave Hunter and Dan Krichbaum at the guard positions for the Quaker varsity next season, paced Salem's reserves to an easy 52-37 win over host Niles Friday night.

Eskay hooped 14 points and

Souchak Leads Crosby Golf Event

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A tightly bunched field of top pros, with Mike Souchak out front by a single stroke, went into the third round of Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament today over the Monterey Peninsula's windy courses.

Souchak pulled ahead of the pack Friday with a 6-under-par 6 for his second round at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club. He displaced opening-round leaders Gene Littler and Dick Knight, the San Diegans who grabbed a three-stroke lead Thursday with 67s over the same timbered layout.

Littler stayed in close contention with a 67-73-140 to Souchak's 73-66-139. But more than a dozen tournament veterans were close enough to pull ahead for the $4,000 first prize money in the two 18-hole rounds left to play. Knight skidded to 77 Friday for 144.

Defending champion Art Wall was five strokes off the pace today at 144, grouped with five others at that level.

In third place at 141 were Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif., and Ed Oliver, Denver.

Bender Beats Sugar Ray

Ex-Fireman Gets Split Decision

BOSTON (AP)—Paul Bender, an articulate ex-fireman who denounces the evils of boxing and three times quit the ring, today rules as the world middleweight champion—limited version.

Pender took the final trappings of Sugar Ray Robinson in a 15-round split decision Friday night after the National Boxing Assn. earlier had stripped the veteran New Yorker of his crown in 46 states.

The two camps differed as to the site of the rematch, written into the contract with a 90-day limit, should Pender win.

Robinson's manager, George Gainford, spoke forcefully of his conviction that Sugar Ray had won.

"We'll have the return in New York if Madison Square Garden will have it," he added. "They won't like it here, and I don't think it's fair for them to have the return here too."

Naturally, Pender, 29, a resident of suburban Brookline, prefers his home grounds but added: "I'm ready for him, definitely, any time, any place."

His title is recognized only in Massachusetts and New York.

While the 10,608 Boston Garden fans knew Pender in his moment of triumph, many a member of the national television audience wanted to know who was this brash upstart who unseated the ageless Sugar Ray.

Well-spoken enough to be mistaken for a young business executive, Pender is given away by a twice-broken nose plus gnarled hands which shattered on him five years ago. It happened during a battle with current NBA-recognized champ Gene Fulmer, costing him the decision and almost ending his fistic pursuits.

Cautiously jabbing and moving away from Robinson, 39, in the early stages Friday night, Pender made Sugar miss long right hands labeled kayo, then became more forceful in the late stages. He landed effectively on Robinson's head while protecting his own.

Both have a 13-1 record with a victory and a loss to the other.

Seventh-ranked Utah, the only other top 10 team in action, kept on Utah State's heels in the Skyline Conference race with a 76-69 victory over Brigham Young. It gave the Utes a 4-1 Skyline mark and a 14-2 overall record.

New World Indoor Shot Put Record Set

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new world indoor shot put record by Parry O'Brien was on its way into the record books today and prospects were bright for the future of a teen-age American miler.

The distance star is Dyrrol Burleson, a 19-year-old sophomore from the University of Oregon.

O'Brien set the tone of Los Angeles' first indoor track and field meet when he hurled the 16-pound shot 63 feet, 1 inch Friday night. It broke his indoor mark of 62-14.

But the new hero was Burleson, and a supporting star was his teammate, George Larson, who finished third to Dyrrol and veteran Phil Coleman in the mile feature.

Sweden's great star, Dan Waern, whose training has been hampered by a bad cold, finished fourth.

Salem's freshmen may take an 8-2 record into their next game on Tuesday at Poland.

NFL Fails Again to Name Commissioner

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—National Football League club owners may take a "let's call the whole thing off" attitude, retiring to lick their wounds and await a more fruitful day to settle the big questions of a new commissioner and expansion.

They took one more futile stab at resolving the commissioner issue on the third day of their meeting Friday.

Then, they shelved the problem to take up minor business.

The commissioner campaign, which saw 14 ballots the first two days, failed to reach a vote Friday.

The last vote, taken Thursday, showed Marshall Leary, the San Francisco barrister, with seven votes; Don Kelleit, Baltimore general manager, with four, and one abstention.

Art Rooney of the Pittsburgh Steelers, obviously irked at the impasse, tossed seven more names into the already well-filled hopper of candidates in the hope one might touch a uniformly responsive chord. Nothing happened.

Pirates Manager Says Team Has Fighting Chance for Flag

By DANNY MURTAUGH

Manager Pittsburgh Pirates WOODLYN, Pa. (AP)—Last year Pittsburgh finished fourth because of (1) injuries, (2) several players having sub-par seasons, and (3) lack of another long-ball hitter and a right-handed hitting catcher.

I look for this year's club to be better because (1) I don't look for another injury siege like the last one (2) fellows like Bill Mazeroski, Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Bob Friend are bound to bounce back and (3) we have come up with a good offensive right-handed catcher in Hal Smith.

Our club still needs a long-ball hitter to go along with Dick Stuart.

As our team now stands, we have a very good defense, adequate team speed, and pretty good hitting. If the boys play up to what we know they can, we feel we must have a fighting chance for the pennant.

I feel the trades we have made this winter have improved our club. First we acquired a good catcher in Smith to go with Smoky Burgess. Second, we acquired a good all-around outfielder in Gino Cimoli. Bob Oldis, another catcher, should help us.

The departure of Ronnie Kline leaves us an opening in our pitching rotation. Friend, Vernon Law and Harvey Haddix are our first liners but we'll have a number of candidates in camp trying for the fourth job.

Offhand, I'd say Joe Gibson, a left-hander who pitched for Columbus last year, and Joe Umbricht, a right-hander from Salt Lake City, have a good chance.

Other leading candidates include Bennie Daniels, Earl Francis, Fred Green, Tom Cheuey, Curt Raydon and Red Witt.

Our infield is intact. It includes Skinner, Bob Clemente and Bill Virdon, with Roman Mejias, a valuable fourth man. We have good reports on a rookie from Denver named Hank Mitchell.

(Next: Paul Richards, Baltimore Orioles.)

Ohio State, Purdue To Clash Tonight

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, Iowa and Minnesota—the only teams with fewer than two losses in the Big Ten basketball race—will try their luck on foreign courts today.

Ohio State (3-0) goes to Purdue (2-2) where the Buckeyes will be faced with their first conference game away from home. The game promises to be a scoring battle between two of the league's better sophomores.

Terry Dischinger of Purdue leads the Big Ten in scoring but OSU rookie Jerry Lucas is not too far behind the Boilermaker newcomer. This is a big game for the Buckeyes, who could lay plans for the Big Ten title by proving they can win away from home.

Iowa (4-1) will be at Michigan State (2-2). Iowa's only loss was at Minnesota early in the season but the Hawkeyes made up for that by scoring a triumph at Wisconsin.

Minnesota (3-1) is at Northwestern. The Gophers trounced from home. The Gophers trounced Michigan at Ann Arbor last week but previously lost to Illinois at Illinois.

Minnesota could take over the conference lead by defeating Northwestern tonight should both Iowa and Ohio State lose.

Hamburg, Germany — Erich Schoepner, 174, Germany, and Gernheim Ballarin, 173, France, drew, 10.

Lowellville Rips Fairfield 67-49

Rebels Fall Apart In Last Two Frames

The powerful Lowellville Rockets listed seventh among Class A teams in the state in this week's Associated Press poll, walloped Fairfield-Waterford 67-49 Friday night on the Rebels' floor.

Fairfield-Waterford put up a game struggle in the first half but fell apart in the next two quarters.

Lowellville led 18-13 at the end of the first period and 34-28 by the intermission.

The Rockets went into orbit in the next frame, scoring 17 points while holding the Rebels to six to make the count 51-34 entering the final stanza.

Phil Genova and Ken Camp were high for the invaders, with 19 and 13, respectively.

Jim Olnhausen paced the Rebels with 17. Clarence Kannal added 14 to the losers' total.

The Fairfield-Waterford Reserves won the opening game 36-34.

The Rockets, undefeated this year, have a 10-0 record and are 6-0 in Inter-County League play.

They will be host tonight to Greenford.

The Rebels have won only two of nine contests this season. Their league record is 2-3.

Fairfield-Waterford was scheduled to play tonight at home against Salineville, but the game was postponed because of an outbreak of flu among Salineville's players.

The Rebels' next contest will be a newly scheduled game with Canfield on the latter's court next Friday.

East All-Stars Roll Over West

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"I think we had more pride and determination, and someone gave us a lift every time we needed it."

That was Coach Red Auerbach's view of the East's 125-115 victory over the West Friday night in the annual National Basketball Assn. All-Star Game.

"First it was Bill Sharman, then (Richie) Guerin, and finally (Tom) Gola who came through when the game was getting uncomfortable," Auerbach said.

Ed Macauley of St. Louis, the West coach, named the same three players as the men who pulled it out for the East.

But for consistency and over-all performance the East had one big man, rookie Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain who won the most valuable player award by scoring 23 points, getting 25 rebounds, and blocking 4 shots. He played only 30 minutes.

Sharman, a back-court star for Boston, sent the East into a permanent lead in the second quarter when he hit on five of his one-hand jump shots.

saw puzzle Friday, some seeming to fit and others merely cluttering the picture.

In Dallas, Mrs. Spears said that her husband denied to her that he had sabotaged the Gulf airliner, in which 42 died. She said she would not have taken the $100,000 from an insurance policy he carried. She said she had told Spears this when he made a secret visit to her in Dallas Jan. 7, during the period he was presumed to be dead.

In Washington, it was learned that Spears had electric tape and flashlight batteries along with dynamite blasting caps in his luggage when the FBI picked him up at a Phoenix motel. The finding of the blasting caps had been reported a couple of days ago. Earlier, a cache of dynamite had been found at the place where Spears was hiding out in Arizona.

At Charleston, S.C., Julian Frank's widow, a beautiful former model, was reported in serious condition in a private hospital. Her lawyer, Carl J. Rubino, said in New York she had a miscarriage as she was traveling to Florida by train. He said it was caused by "harassment which arose from unfounded speculation and irresponsible conjecture" about her husband's death.

McGonnigal said the usual practice has been to give four hours pay to an employee called in and then sent home because of lack of work. Under present work rules, he said, the company will pay only one hour.

"But on the West Coast," he said, "the company has restored the four-hour call-in pay."
